Warm Bath Robes
Are Very Useful These
Mornings and Evenings

Bath Robes occupy a place in the wardrobe that no other garment can satisfactorily fill, and for this reason there is a distinct need felt for them, when we do not possess one.

Eiderdown and Blanket Bath Robes are shown in a very extensive assortment of designs, colorings, and styles; both plain and figured fabrics are used; and in the figured are some of the genuine Indian sorts woven by native squaws. The high-neck styles have lay-down collar and long sleeves finished with cuffs; low-neck effects are simple and have dainty flowing sleeves. Each garment is appropriately trimmed with satin bands in suitable tones, and finished with cords and tassels at waist line; some of the more elaborate styles are trimmed with Persian silk and marabou.

Very Good Values in Men's and Women's Fine Umbrellas.

Several things have contributed to this unusual offering: First of all, we were given the privilege of selecting for their making handles that are more often used on umbrellas of higher price. The maker had just the number left that would fill our needs, and let us have them because we could use the entire quantity. The materials are of splendid wearing quality, absolutely rainproof and guaranteed. They are made on paragon frames, with steel ribs, an assurance of their reliability. We do not think it possible to surpass them at the price.

Men's and Women's 36-in. and 48-in. Satin Gloria, Guaranteed Umbrellas, paragon frame, with 8 ribs; natural and mission carved handles. Special prices, $2.00 and $2.50.

Investigate, study, and experiment all you wish, and you will find a more sensible or a more satisfactory or a more economical solution of the underwear problem than the Munsing line. It is always fine in quality; will not irritate the most sensitive skin; is always perfect fitting, and is celebrated for its extraordinary durability and washability. Although elastic, Munsing underwear does not stretch out of shape, nor will it shrink if properly laundered.

Mr. Wilson Plays Golf

The President played golf yesterday afternoon with Dr. Cary T. Grayson, U. S. N., at the Washington Country Club.

Mrs. Alfred E. Bates, widow of Gen. Bates, U. S. A., announces the engagement of her daughter, Mrs. McKee Dunn Brooks, to Mr. Frederick H. Brooks. The engagement is of particular interest as both Mrs. McKee and Mr. Brooks are extremely popular in Washington, where they have spent most of their lives. Mrs. McKee, before her marriage to the late Mr. McKee Dunn McKee, was Miss Henrietta Bates, and was a great belle here. She made her debut the winter and spring preceding the Spanish war. Mr. Brooks is the son of Mrs. Randolph McKim. He is a member of the Metropolitan, Chevy Chase, and other clubs.

A number of Washingtonians motored out to the Chevy Chase Club last night to attend the regular Wednesday night dance. Among those who entertained friends at dinner preceding the dance were Mrs. Sherman McCallum, Mrs. William Haywood, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Wheeler, Maj. and Mrs. William Connor, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hagner, and Mrs. Cameron.

In the presence of a brilliant assemblage of prominent Washingtonians, Miss Mildred Edgerton Pearn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lee Pearn, was married to Ensign Richard Stockton Field, U. S. N., yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, in the ball room of the Brighton.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Hobart Smith, rector of St. Thomas' Church, Green Spring Valley, Md., a cousin of the bride.

The splendid ballroom was a mass of flowers. The white satin prie dieu, to which were fastened clusters of white chrysanthemums, was placed before a white lattice, through which were twisted autumn foliage, Southern amellax, and ferns. Huge clusters of white chrysanthemums decorated the ends of the lattice work, and tall standards of the same flower were placed in front of the altar. Broad white ribbon marked the aisle through which passed the bride, preceded by her wedding party. The brilliant uniforms of the bridegroom and his brother officers, who acted as ushers, added to the charming scene.

The bride, who was escorted and given away by her father, wore an exquisite gown of ivory crepe chamoisee, the sleeves and bodice being draped with duchesse lace. Her tulle veil was held in place by a becoming cap of Madeira lace, and she carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Maria Calvo, daughter of the Minister of Costa Rica and Miss Calvo, and Miss Edith Temple Grace, daughter of Mrs. Archibald Grace, were the bridesmaids. They wore lovely gowns of white chamoisee, draped with violet chiffon. Large white silk beaver hats trimmed with velvet panes, and carried bouquets of mauve orchids and lady Hillington roses. Ensign Scott Douglas Blackwelder, U. S. N., was best man, and the ushers were Ensign Lucien Green, Ensign Frederick Reiskohl, Paymaster Robert Clark, U. S. N., and Mr. Washington Peet, attaché of the Peruvian Legation, and son of the Minister of Peru and Miss Peet.

A reception followed the wedding ceremony, and refreshments were served at a handsomely appointed table. Later in the afternoon the bride and bridegroom left on their wedding trip. They will reside in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Boardman and Miss Mabel Boardman returned to Washington yesterday from their summer home in New England.

Col. Spencer Cosby, U. S. A., military attaché at the Embassy in Paris, and Mrs. Cosby called yesterday for France.

David Bailey Lamar has resigned as a member to accompany her husband to California, where he will remain all winter as commissioner for the Panama Exposition.

Joyce-Beall Nuptials

An interesting wedding took place yesterday at noon at the Church of the Epiphany when Miss Laura Constantia Beall, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Beall, of Montgomery County, Md., was married to Mr. Jesse Joyce, of Birmingham, Ala. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. G. Freeland Peters in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends.

The church was beautifully decorated with white flowers and palms. The organist Mr. Conant, played the wedding music.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Charles W. Beall, of Rockville, Md., wore a handsome gown of amethyst crepe metror, made with a jacket effect, and a black velvet hat of the same shade. Her hair was of broadest velvet to match her gown and was trimmed with old rose plumes. She carried a round bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. William A. Wallace, of Philadelphia, who was her sister's matron of honor, wore elegant colored crepe metror made with a bodice of cream lace. She wore a black velvet hat and carried an armful of pink chrysanthemums.

Mr. Jean Joyce, of Birmingham, and formerly of Baltimore, was the best man for his brother, and the ushers were Goldsborough Beall, of Baltimore, brother of the bride; Mr. William A. Wallace, of Philadelphia; Mr. Robert V. Willet, of Washington; and Mr. John Bullock, of Baltimore.

An informal reception followed the ceremony at the church, and later in the day Mr. and Mrs. Joyce left for an extended wedding trip, which will end at their future home in Birmingham.

Mrs. Joyce traveled in a French blue tailored suit with a black velvet hat. Among those from out of town who attended the wedding were Miss Hallie McCallum, of Philadelphia; Miss Grace Joyce and Miss Florence Joyce, sisters of the bridegroom; Edward J. Joyce, father of the bridegroom, and Jean Joyce, brother of the bridegroom, all of Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. J. Waters, of Brookville, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Beall, also of Brookville; Mrs. D. V. Jean, Miss Mary Jean, Miss Duena Jean, William Jean, and Mr. and Mrs. Naval Jean, all of Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Thompson, Miss Mary C. Bayne, Mr. and Mrs. Parker McPherson, Mr. and Mrs. Goldsborough Beall, and John E. Wallace, of Baltimore; Dr. Clayburn Mannan, Dr. and Mrs. Olin Lithicum, Md., and Mrs. Charles W. Beall, and Miss Anna Katherine Beall, all of Rockville, Md.

The Shoreham Hotel has issued invitations to a series of dances to be given every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday afternoon in the gold room of the hotel from 4 to 6 o'clock, beginning October 17.

No event of this kind has ever before taken place in Washington, and it promises to be a delightful feature of the winter entertaining.

The ceremony will take place Wednesday evening, October 23, at 8 o'clock at the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church. Mr. Weyrich and his bride will be at home December 20 and January 13 at the Thomas, on Thomas Circle.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac T. Mann, who are motoring in New York State, will go to their West Virginia place before returning to their home here for the winter. Mrs. Mann returned last week from a short trip abroad.

Pretty Fall Wedding

A pretty fall wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome D. Kiefer, of Takoma Park, at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when their daughter, Miss Violet Ruth, married Allen Howell. A company of about thirty relatives and friends were present for the ceremony, which had for its setting the ground floor room, tastefully decorated with palms, ferns and chrysanthemums. The bride was unattended and was given away by her father. Her gown was of crepe de chine, trimmed with duchesse lace, and she carried an arm bouquet of white chrysanthemums and maidenhair ferns.

The Rev. Hugh T. Stevenson, of Bethany Baptist Church, performed the marriage service. The music for the occasion was rendered by Mrs. Albert H. Zimmerman. Following the reception the couple left for Norfolk, Va., on their honeymoon trip, and will be at home after November 1 at 181 Summit Place. The bridegroom is connected with the National Electric Company's local office and came to this city from Herndon, Va. Mrs. Howell grew up in Washington and is a graduate of Technical High School. Among the guests from other places were Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Shantz, of Hardsboro, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shantz, of Hardsboro, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Shantz, of Jenkintown, Pa.; A. T. An extremely pretty house wedding was solemnized last night when Miss Alice Grace Sims and Mr. Philip Outerbridge McQueen, of Capital View, Va., and Panama, were married, the Rev. John McCall, of The Plains, Va., officiating.

Miss Ellen Alloway was the bride's only attendant, and Mr. Edgar F. Gohl, of Potomac, Pa., a classmate of the bridegroom at Lehigh, was the best man. The wedding music was played by Miss Jenny Ayres, of Geneva, N. Y., a cousin of the bride.

The charming bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Norman E. Sims.

The bride and bridegroom later left on their wedding trip through the South. After a short visit to New Orleans they will go to Central America, and from there to Panama, where they will be at home at the Washington Hotel after December 1.

Mrs. Frederick E. Keap has arrived in Washington from Dalton, Mass., where she made a lengthy visit to her brother-in-law and sister, former Senator and Mrs. Winthrop Murray Crane.
